Hey... wasn't that Guer just now?

What
do think
this means,
Shu-kun...?

He's supposed be holding that giant
monster back,
right...?

Did something happen...?

Now... I'll get straight
to it.

I finally caught up with you
thanks to you
stopping.

WHA...??!
WHO ARE YOU?!

WHAT'S WRONG...
WITH RUNNING AWAY?!!

I- I AVOIDED A MEANINGLESS DEATH!! THEY DON'T SAY
YOU HAVE TO GO AS FAR AS THROW YOUR LIFE AWAY IN
THE LINE OF DUTY AS A KNIGHT!!

ONE MORE
PERSON, ONE LESS PERSON, IT'S
ALL THE SAME!
THAT SITUATION'S NOT GOING TO CHANGE!

I'm glad.

Huh...?

I think I can borrow one with a clear conscious if
it's from a serpai
with no will to fight.

...What?

I do sympathize with your circumstances, but I have to deal with this situation.

Now, I'm a bit hesitant to do this, but time to start changing the settings.

Are these.

The silver nerves
for operations...

Ah,
that's right.

At my
current size,
I can't operate
this unless I do this much
at least.

I'll connect
it directly to Winchester...
That takes care
of the simple
input/output
terminal.

I can't possibly throw senpai out. I'll have you bear
with this.

There's one thing I learned about Silhouette Knights while studying them.

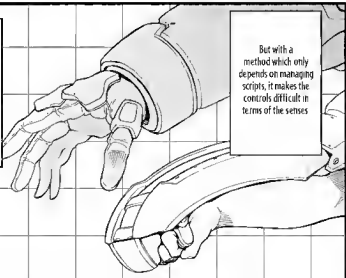

Now, again...

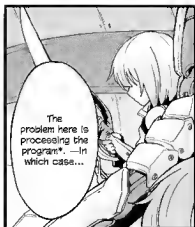

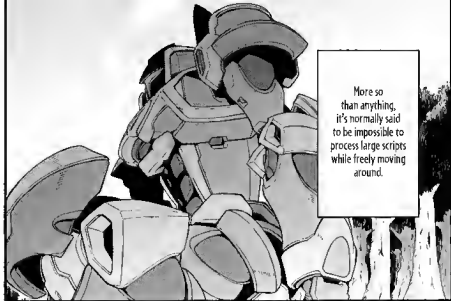

Based on a logical extreme, I should be able to move this without making use of the joystick or stirrups as long as I can at least manage the scripts.

When controlling a Silhouette Knight, operations via the apparatus are ultimately auxiliary

So, through physical input devices which correspond to the limbs, ease of operation and a certain degree of freedom are established.

But with a method which only depends on managing scripts, it makes the controls difficult in terms of the senses

I'm sure... it was for this moment—

That I
studied...

It's possible.

For me,

This
whole
time...

This
whole
time.

And
trained—

From way
before.

Because
this is what I've been doing all
this time.

Now,
all I have to do
is process the
"entirety" of the silhouette knight
with the PC
inside me...

It's what I've always been good at —

I never had a chance
to practice this,
but I have no
choice but to do it...!

Commence pattern
analysis.

Now, this is where I show off my skills as a programmer.

Searching for similar scripts.

So the one
at the root...
is physical boost.

Physical
boost
amplifier.

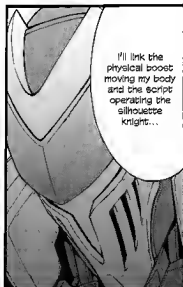

I'll turn
all the parts
into modules and link the output
management...
This is the ether
reactor's
input/output.

Crystal
tissue operation
management...
Placement
map.

Operation
pattern
conversion
complete...
Power on!

I'll link the physical boost
moving my body
and the script operating the silhouette knight...

I'll match
the operational parameters to the silhouette knight
and adjust them
for combat, then begin operations
with the default
input controls.

There's
enough mana pool
for tuning output management. Now...
the first step.

NOW...
I'M RIDING
ONE!!

RIGHT
NOW, I'M OPERATING
ONE!!
